This decoy is a great way to protect your pond from blue heron. This life like replica is made of durable blow-molded plastic. This heron stands on a 21" stilt and measures 24". The decoy is a very effective way to control Herons in May through February. Herons defend their territory and stay out of other herons defended territories after mating season. We suggest when you use a decoy to periodically move it around your pond to keep up the appearance of a live bird. A good time to move your heron decoy is when you feed your fish.

How to choose the right fish net

TIP

One essential piece of equipment has to be a Net to enable you to catch your Koi, quickly and safely without causing too much stress and damage to the Koi itself. Generally, depending on the size of your pond, the largest net head you can manage with is always going to be the best bet. But it should be stressed that larger net heads are harder to move through the water - as the larger net head has more drag on the net.

It is very important that when you do choose a net that you pay attention to the handle. This has to be strong enough to not only drag the net head through the water, but hold your Koi safely once you have netted it.
